

Contents

Acknowledgments	xxiii
Acknowledgments to the First Edition	xxv
Foreword by Michael Waldstein	xxvii
Foreword to the First Edition by George Weigel	xxxiii
Introduction	1
Need for a Revised Edition	3
PROLOGUE
The Human Body, Catholicism, and John Paul II	7
1. What Is the Theology of the Body?	9
The Wednesday Catechesis	9
The “Crisis of the Body”	11
The Gospel of the Body	14
2. What Makes the Human Body “Theological”?	15
The Sacramentality of the Body	15
Sign of the Mystery Hidden in God	17
The Marriage of Theology and Anthropology	21
The Scandal of the Body	22

3. The Great Spousal Analogy	23
God Wants to “Marry” Us	23
Understanding the Spousal Analogy Properly	28
The Particular Value of the Spousal Analogy	29
Influence of St. John of the Cross	31
Personalism and the Sincere Gift of Self	34
4. The Spiritual Battle	36
Plagiarizing the Primordial Sacrament	36
The Symbolic and the Diabolic	38
“Angelism” and “Animalism”	39
Integrating Body and Spirit	40
5. The Deepest Substratum of Ethics and Culture	42
At the Origins of Evil	43
The Wellspring of Culture	44
Christ Heals the Rift	46
Need for a Paradigm Shift	48
Man Cannot Live Without Love	49
6. Wojtyla’s Philosophical and Theological Project	51
The Modern “Turn Toward the Subject”	51
“Thomistic Personalism”	54
What Is Phenomenology?	56
Loving and Interiorizing the “Splendor of the Truth”	57
Saving the “Subjective Turn” from Subjectivism	60
Other Steps in Wojtyla’s Thought	63
7. A Response to the Humanae Vitae Crisis	67
The Need for a “Total Vision of Man”	67
The Need for a Personalistic Ethic	70
The Personalistic Norm	72
Structure of the Catechesis	73
PROLOGUE—IN REVIEW	78

PART I

THE WORDS OF CHRIST

CHAPTER 1

Christ Appeals to the “Beginning”

[Cycle 1—Original Man]	87
1. What Is Meant by “Beginning”?	88
Unity and Indissolubility	89
Two Creation Accounts	90
Continuity in the “Redemption of the Body”	92
Revelation and Experience	94
2. The Meaning of Original Solitude	96
A Twofold Meaning	96
Man in Search of His Own Identity	97
Objective-Subjective Harmony	98
Partner of the Absolute	99
The Alternative Between Death and Immortality	100
The Body Expresses the Person	102
3. The Meaning of Original Unity	103
The Unity of the Two	103
The Meaning of Adam’s “Sleep”	104
The Meaning of Adam’s Rib	105
Communion of Persons	106
Communion Overcomes and Affirms Solitude	107
A Dramatic Development of Catholic Thought	108
Theology of Sex	109
Man as a Subject in Relation	111
The Original Conjugal Act?	114
Man’s “Original Virginal Value”	116
The Vital Power of Communion	120
4. The Meaning of Original Nakedness	120
The Key to Biblical Anthropology	121
Penetrating Their Experience	123

Shame as a Phenomenon	124
The Peace of the Interior Gaze	126
5. Man in the Dimension of Gift	128
A. The Spousal Meaning of the Body	128
Hermeneutics of the Gift	128
The Original Way of Living the Gift	129
Discovery of the “Spousal” Meaning of the Body	130
Incarnate Love	131
Revelation and Discovery of the Meaning of Life	132
The Freedom of the Gift	133
“Own Sake” and “Self Gift”	135
Spousal Meaning of the Body and the Affirmation of the Person	136
Spousal Meaning of the Body: Rooted in Love	138
B. The Mystery of Original Innocence	139
Grace as a Gift to the Human Heart	139
Innocence and the Exchange of the Gift	141
Giving and Receiving Interpenetrate	142
The Ethos of the Human Body	144
Ethos and the Subjectivity of Man	146
Subjectivity and Purity	147
The Primordial Sacrament and the Body as “Sign”	148
The First Feast of Humanity	148
John Paul’s Thesis Statement	149
6. “Knowledge” and Procreation (Gen 4:1)	153
The Meaning of “Knowledge”	153
Knowledge Leads to “a Third”: Fatherhood and Motherhood	156
Eulogy of Femininity	157
Attack on Creative Love and the Perspective of Redemption	158
The Knowledge-Generation Cycle: Life Refuses to Surrender	159
Conclusion of Chapter 1	161
Christ’s Words Remain Pertinent Today	161
Questions of Human Life	162
CHRIST APPEALS TO THE “BEGINNING”—IN REVIEW	163

CHAPTER 2

Christ Appeals to the Human Heart

[Cycle 2—Historical Man]	169
1. In the Light of the Sermon on the Mount	171
Ethical Meaning: The New Ethos	171
Fulfillment of the Law	173
Anthropological Meaning: Penetrating the “Heart”	176
2. The Man of Concupiscence	177
A. The Meaning of Original Shame	178
Casting Doubt on the Gift	178
The Entrance of Shame	182
The Dimensions of Shame	184
Shame Shakes the Foundations of Existence	185
Shame Is Immanent and Relative	187
Shame Has a Twofold Meaning	189
B. Insatiability of the Union	192
Concupiscence Shatters the Original Communion of Persons	192
The Second Discovery of Sex	193
Sin’s Effect on Woman	194
Both Are Subject to Concupiscence	196
C. The Corruption of the Spousal Meaning of the Body	197
Living the Body Flows from the Heart	198
Concupiscence Habitually Threatens Love	199
Loss of the Freedom of the Gift	201
Maintaining the Balance of the Gift	203
The Personal Analogy of Belonging	205
3. Commandment and Ethos	206
A. It Was Said, “Do Not Commit Adultery”	207
The Law	207
The Prophets	209
Anthropology and Ethics of the Sign	210
B. “Whoever Looks with Lust...”	211
The Wisdom Tradition and the New Ethos	212

The Inner State of the Man of Concupiscence	216
External Modesty	217
Penetrating the “Lustful Look”	217
Concupiscence as a Reduction.	219
Psychological Interpretation of Lust	220
“Eternal” Sexuality	221
C. “ Has Committed Adultery in the Heart... ”	222
A Key Change of Direction.	222
The Typical Interpretation Requires a Deepening.	222
A Clarion Call to Uphold Woman’s Dignity	224
The Real Possibility of Purity of Heart	226
The Guiding Thread of Existence	228
4. The “Heart”—Accused or Called?	229
A. Condemnation of the Body?	230
Manichaeism.	230
Irreconcilable Difference in Mentality	231
Negation of the Body versus Victory over Lust	233
B. The “Heart” Under Suspicion?	236
“Masters of Suspicion”	236
The Meaning of Life Is at Stake	238
Grace, Faith, and Man’s Real Possibilities	239
Grace Restored	240
Christ’s Call Wells Up from Within	242
C. Eros and Ethos	242
Is Eros Equated with Lust?	242
Longing for the True, Good, and Beautiful	243
The Problem of Erotic Spontaneity	244
Mature Spontaneity and Noble Pleasure	246
5. The Ethos of the Redemption of the Body	248
The Whole Mission of Christ.	248
Growing in Holiness	250
Redemption, Not Repression	251
6. Purity as “Life According to the Spirit”	253
Blessed Are the Pure in Heart.	253

From Physical Purity to Moral Purity	254
“Flesh” and “Spirit” According to St. Paul	256
Justification by Faith	257
“Works of the Flesh” and “Fruit of the Spirit”	259
The Freedom for which Christ Has Set Us Free	261
Freedom and Purity	262
Authentic Freedom	265
Purity—Keeping the Body “in Holiness and Reverence”	266
The Pauline Description of the Body	268
Restoring Harmony in the Body	269
The Need for a Pure Purity	270
Purity as a Virtue and a Gift	272
God’s Glory Shining in the Body	275
Purity and Wisdom: To the Pure All Things Are Pure	276
7. The Gospel of Purity of Heart—Yesterday and Today	277
Theology and Pedagogy of the Body	279
Spirituality of the Body	280
The Church Applies Christ’s Words Today	281
Appendix: The Ethos of the Body in Art and Media	283
A Perennial Object of Culture	284
The Ethos of the Image and the Ethos of Seeing	285
True Art versus Pornography	287
Conclusion of Chapter 2	290
CHRIST APPEALS TO THE HUMAN HEART—IN REVIEW	291

CHAPTER 3

Christ Appeals to the Resurrection

[Cycle 3—Eschatological Man and Cycle 4—Continence for the Kingdom]	297
--	-----

1. Resurrection of the Body as a Reality of the Future World 299

A. The Synoptics: “He Is Not the God of the Dead but of the Living”	299
The Third Part of the Triptych	299
Witness to the Power of the Living God	300
The New Meaning of the Body	302

The Fulfillment of Marriage	302
We Will Be “Like” Angels	303
Spiritualization of the Body	307
Divinization of the Body	308
The Beatific Vision: Seeing God “Face to Face”	310
The Eschatological Experience	312
The Body: A Witness to Love	313
The Perfection of Subjectivity	314
The Marriage of Divinity and Humanity	315
A New Threshold for Understanding Man	315
Divine–Human Communion	316
Knowledge of God	318
Communion of Saints: Fulfillment of the
Spousal Meaning of the Body	319
A Union of Communion	319
A Virginal Communion	321
The Perfect Freedom of the Gift	322
A Development of the Truth about Man	324
Communion Is Fundamental	324
Icon or Idol?	326
 B. Pauline Interpretation of the Resurrection
in 1 Corinthians 15:42–49	327
God’s Reply to Death	327
The First Adam Bears Potential for the New Adam	329
The Spiritual Body	331
 2. Continence for the Kingdom of Heaven [Cycle 4]	332
A. The Words of Christ in Matthew 19:11–12	334
Christ’s Words Mark a Turning Point	334
Voluntary, Supernatural, Virginal Communion	335
Continence for the Kingdom and Spiritual Fruitfulness	337
Joseph and Mary’s Virginal Marriage	338
Marriage and Celibacy Both Flow
from the Ethos of Redemption	339
Correct Understanding of the “Superiority” of Celibacy	341
Solitude, Communion, and the Spousal Meaning of the Body	343

Marriage and Celibacy Explain and Complete Each Other	345
Marriage Reveals the Spousal Character of Celibacy	346
Celibacy Reveals the Sacramentality of Marriage.	348
Celibacy Anticipates Man's Definitive Fulfillment	349
Liberation from Concupiscence	351
B. Paul's Understanding of the Relation
Between Virginity and Marriage (1 Cor 7)	352
Christ's Statement and the Teaching of the Apostles	352
Paul's Argumentation.	353
Does Paul View Marriage as an Outlet for Concupiscence?	355
Why Celibacy Is "Better" According to St. Paul.	357
Both Vocations Are a Call to Holiness.	358
The Grace Operative in Married Life	359
Conclusion of Part I	361
The Redemption of the Body and the Hope of Every Day	361
Christ Fulfills the Proto-Evangelium	362
The Hope of Every Day	362
The Theology of the Body Is Fundamental	364
CHRIST APPEALS TO THE RESURRECTION—IN REVIEW	365

PART II

THE SACRAMENT

CHAPTER 1

The Dimension of Covenant and of Grace

[Cycle 5—The Sacramentality of Marriage]	375
1. Ephesians 5:21–33	377
A. Introduction and Connection	377
The Text of Ephesians 5:21–23.	377
The Crowning of the Themes of Scripture	377
The Incarnate Person: Body and Sacrament	378
B. Detailed Analysis	381

The Context of Ephesians	381
Modern Sensitivities and St. Paul's Interpretive Key.	382
Mutual Submission "Out of Reverence for Christ"	383
The Spousal Analogy.	386
Giving and Receiving the Gift	387
Two Directions of the Spousal Analogy.	389
Head and Body Analogy	391
Sacredness of the Body	393
Baptism Expresses Christ's Spousal Love for the Church	394
Physical Beauty as an Image of Holiness	395
The Husband Must Desire His Wife's Beauty.	397
True Love Recognizes Woman's True Beauty	400
Spousal Love and the Eucharist	403
This Is a Great Mystery-Sacrament	403
Recovering the Broader Meaning of "Sacrament".	404
Keystone of the Spousal Analogy.	405
The Sacrament Proclaims and Accomplishes the Mystery	407
2. Sacrament and Mystery	408
Christ Reveals the Mystery Hidden for Ages in God	408
The Mode of Gift and the Veils of Faith	409
The Spousal Analogy: From the Old Testament to the New	410
Your Maker Is Your Husband.	410
From Isaiah to Ephesians: New Aspects of Revelation	412
The Reality of the Gift, the Meaning of Grace	413
The Single "Great Sign" Communicates the Radical Character of Grace	414
Conjugal Union in Light of the Incarnation	415
The Foundation of the Sacramental Order	416
Marriage as the Primordial Sacrament	417
The Body Pervaded by Grace	420
The Sacrament of Creation.	421
Marriage: Platform for the Realization of God's Eternal Plans	423
Being Chosen and Being Able to Choose	424
Sin and the Loss of Supernatural Efficacy.	425
Sacrament of Creation Fulfilled in Sacrament of Redemption	427
Signs of Creation and Redemption.	428

Christ's Spousal Love Is Unitive and Life-Giving	430
Marriage: Prototype of All the Sacraments	431
Nature and Grace	431
Grace of the Primordial Sacrament Restored	432
Marriage Provides the Basic Structure of Salvation	433
3. Sacrament and "Redemption of the Body"	435
A. The Gospel	435
The Anthropology of Redemption	436
The Ethos of Redemption	437
Marriage Reveals God's Will to Save Us from Sin	439
Marriage Is a Call to "Life in the Spirit"	441
Overcoming Concupiscence	441
Better to Marry Than to Be Aflame with Passion	442
Marital Intercourse as "Life in the Holy Spirit"	443
Procreation: An Integral Part of Creation and Redemption	445
Marriage and the Eschatological Hope of Redemption	446
B. Ephesians	448
The Spousal and Redemptive Meaning of Love	448
Understanding Human Existence	450
Spousal Love Embraces the Universe	451
THE DIMENSION OF COVENANT AND OF GRACE— IN REVIEW	452
CHAPTER 2
The Dimension of Sign
[Cycle 5—The Sacramentality of Marriage, cont'd.]	461
1. "Language of the Body" and the Reality of the Sign	463
Words "Made Flesh"	463
The Interplay of Form and Matter	465
The "Prophetism of the Body"	467
Man: The Author of His Own Language	468
"Language of the Body" Reread in the Truth	469
"Language of the Body" and Victory over Concupiscence	470
2. The Song of Songs	474
Interpreting the Song of Songs	475
Mutual Fascination with the Body	477

Experience of the Beautiful	478
"Eyes of the Body" and "Eyes of the Heart"	480
"My Sister, My Bride"	481
Common Belonging Brings Peace	483
"A Garden Closed, a Fountain Sealed"	484
The Bride Remains "Inviolable": Reciprocal Belonging	488
Sensuality and Spirituality	490
Love Is "Strong as Death"	491
Eros and Agape	493
Limitations in the Language of the Body	494
Sign and Reality	497
3. When the "Language of the Body" Becomes the Language of the Liturgy (Reflections on Tobit)	498
Conjugal Life and Liturgical Life	499
The Marriage of Tobias and Sarah	500
Love as a Test of Life-or-Death	501
The Prayer of Tobias and Sarah	503
Love Is Victorious Because It Prays	505
That Good May Conquer	506
The Spouses' "Conjugal Creed"	507
Ephesians 5: The Language of the Liturgy Becomes the "Language of the Body"	509
The Sacramental Sign—Mystery and Ethos	512
Spiritually Mature Sexual Attraction	514
THE DIMENSION OF SIGN—IN REVIEW	516
CHAPTER 3
He Gave Them the Law of Life as Their Inheritance
[Cycle 6—Love and Fruitfulness:
Reflections on Humanae Vitae]	521
1. The Ethical Problem	524
The Moral Norm and the Truth of the "Language of the Body"	524
Signs and Countersigns	526
The Rightness of the Norm and Its Practicability	530
Development of the Council's Teaching	531
True Pastoral Concern	533
Responsible Parenthood	535

The Truth of the Language of the Body and the Evil of Contraception	537
The Ethical Regulation of Births	540
Two Irreconcilable Views of the Person	542
Self-Mastery and the Freedom of the Gift	544
The Integral Vision of Natural Fertility Regulation	547
Personalistic Interpretation of Natural Law	548
Having a Procreative Attitude	549
2. Outline of Conjugal Spirituality	551
The Power that Flows from Sacramental “Consecration”	551
Christian Realism	552
Infallible Means of Conjugal Spirituality	554
Holiness: Logic of the Sincere Gift of Self	556
The Role of Conjugal Love in the Life of Spouses	558
The Poles of the Debate	558
Authentic Love Rejoices with the Truth	560
Conjugal Love Fulfills the Ends of Marriage	561
Analysis of the Virtue of Continence	562
Continence Is a Permanent Moral Attitude	564
Continence Upholds the Incomparable Value of the Body	566
Continence Purifies and Deepens Spousal Union	569
Continence: Arousal and Emotion	571
Balance Between Arousal and Emotion	573
The Gift of Reverence	574
Conjugal Spirituality from “the Beginning”	575
The Exceptional Meaning of the Conjugal Act	577
The Inner Harmony of Marriage	579
Antithesis of Authentic Conjugal Spirituality	580
Ethical, Personal, and Religious Content of Sexual Union	583
Conclusion	584
Humanae Vitae and the Authentic Progress of Civilization	584
Biblical and Personalistic Aspects	585
Technology, Ethics, and Progress	586
Humanization and Evangelization	588
HE GAVE THEM THE LAW OF LIFE AS THEIR INHERITANCE—IN REVIEW	589

EPILOGUE

The Gospel of the Body and the New Evangelization 5951. The Antidote to the Culture of Death 597

Ramifications for All of Theology. 597

Mainstream Mysticism 599

Incarnating the Gospel Message. 600

Bringing Heavenly Mysteries Down to Earth. 601*The Human Question and the Divine Answer* 6022. The Church's Response to Modern Rationalism 606

The Spousal Analogy and the "Analogy of Faith" 606

Man as "Absolute" or "Partner of the Absolute". 607

Turn to Christ. 610

3. In Conclusion... 613

EPILOGUE—IN REVIEW. 614

Bibliography 617Index 623